

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to two-component epoxy resin compositions which contain at least one Mannich base in the hardener component and are 5 provided with a glass transition temperature of more than 80 °C after being cured at a temperature ranging between 5 °C and 60 °C. The inventive two-component epoxy resin compositions are used especially as adhesives.